academics

In addition to maintaining its usual high standards of academic excellence, Chaminade has recently made significant advances in its teaching program. Each of these improvements proposes to modernize and supplement the existing teaching facilities.

Some of the more notable changes made this year include the institution of team teaching, the introduction of Adult Education classes, and the addition of data processing and art to the curriculum. Also, algebra is now taught to the more promising eighth-grade students of local parochial schools.

principal

Dear Graduates:

I'm sure you will not allow it to be said that your school is a treasure house of knowledge. This would be bad. It would seem to imply that Chaminade is a school to which the entering freshmen bring so much and from which the departing graduates take so little.

You've certainly acquired a good schooling during your years at Chaminade if you were in the least bit receptive. Something of Chaminade has surely rubbed off on you. It will be with you forever. Use it! Capitalize on it! It gives meaning, purpose, direction to your life.

As you read this your days at Chaminade are but memories. Your high school education is over. Remember this, though! You are not at the end. You are not even at the beginning of the end. Actually, you are now only at the end of the beginning of what each member of your faculty hopes and prays will be a wonderful, happy life for you in this world, leading to Heaven in the next.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence McGervey, S.M.

autumn

For nature, autumn is a period of transition; it is a time of change in the life of the Chaminade students as well. He must discard his Bermuda shorts and thongs in favor of the more sophisticated attire that is prescribed in the handbook. For some, it means that the convertible top must remain up until spring; for all it is the time when the casual air of vacation must be laid aside for the more rigorous demands of study.

These hardships do not go unrewarded, however, as the beginning of autumn also marks a return to extracurricular activities. An active Eagle can look forward to spending leisure time in the luxurious annual room, at casual sock-hops and colorful football games–after his three hours of daily study.

winter

The winter months at Chaminade brought a whole host of reminders that the Eagles were making giant strides forward. Enlivened student interest in music made cultural history during the most severe winter in Dayton's history. Our glee club harmonized melodiously with the polished choral group of St. Mary's of the Springs to make the joint concert a splendid reality. Concert pianist Howard Tuvelle presented a recital in February while the famed symphonic choir of Ohio State graced the Eagle's spotlight on March 18th.

Mid record-breaking snows and plummeting thermometer readings, the Eagles saw their Green Giants march steadily forward week after week to achieve an undefeated scheduled season—the first in the school's thirty-five year history.

Of course some Eagles had regrets: there should have been more studying before the mid-term exams; the corsage for the Student Council's "Night in the Alps" might have been less expensive; perhaps the final social whirl before Ash Wednesday could have included just one more sock-hop.

spring

As the lethargic days of spring arrived, the pace of the Eagles faltered a little, perhaps from the heartbreak of the Cincy play-offs. The seniors, though, made gigantic leaps forward during the spring months as they entered wholeheartedly into the spirit of their closed retreats at the Marianist Retreat House.

The newly-acquired Student Council printing press was productive as signs in multi-color appeared announcing the Spring Festival, the Junior-Senior Prom, and the sophomore's "Under the Hawaiian Moon." The largest raffle return in the school's history made the Spring Festival an impressive success.

Continuing the cultural program initiated during the winter months, the Chaminade Art Gallery was installed in the main corridor thanks to the interest and monetary assistance of the Chaminade Co-Educators. A talented troupe from Chaminade and Julienne professionally staged the popular comedy, Tall Story , on May 10th and 12th.

Even to the most disinterested senior, May 25th seemed imminent throughout the spring. And it was all history for the class of '63 as the last day of school was completed on May 16th at 2:45 P.M.

classes

Gleefully, hesitantly, the class of '63 made great strides toward maturity as they prayed, learned and socialized in their last year at Chaminade. An outstanding class, the seniors boast four military academy appointments. John Mikula will spend four years at West Point; Mike Toombs, Mike Gauger and Jerry Wenner received appointments to the Air Force Academy, making Chaminade the only school in the nation having three seniors going to the academy in Denver.

The junior class, led by a dynamic president, contributed valuable manpower to the debate team and editorial staffs of the school's publications. The class of '64 made a most impressive contribution on the Eagles' state runner-up cross country team.

The underclassmen took the lead, as usual, in the fund raising efforts, finishing first and second in the Bishops' Relief Fund and the Spring Festival Drive. The sophomore class proved that the old Eagle spirit was anything but dead, as they enthusiastically backed all school sponsored activities. The shy frosh soon learned to accept the pace of high school and ran a little timidly at first, to gain their share of the laurels.

1. Decorating entrepreneurs and their dates display polished smiles as they pose before a threatening volcano that help set the atmosphere for "Under the Hawaiian Moon."

2. Sophs and their dates chat and chew.

3. Flashing his biggest smile Treon shows the general glow that pervaded the Soph's own dance, "Under the Hawaiian Moon."

1. Seniors used their retreat free time to read, pray and meditate before the Blessed Sacrament.

2. Good grief, Lucy, why smile? It's only the Senior Prom.

3. Kreusch, Toombs and friends enjoy a night on Rampart Street.

4. With the seniors' best wishes, the Green Giants head for Cincy.

5. McKeon and Judy Maher dance to Joe Leigh's music Atop Mount Olympus.

What is America's Greatest Natural Resource?

IT'S PEOPLE!

And our greatest untapped resource is that quality in a man which will not permit him to do less than his best at any time.

The forward progress of America depends upon intelligent people, cultivated and developed in our school system.

Your diploma is your first milestone on an eventful journey toward larger responsibilities in the career of your choice.

Whatever your personal goal in life may be, you will always want to live up to the high ideals developed during your years at Chaminade High School.

The CHAMINADE CO-EDUCATORS' ASSOCIATION

(Formerly the Chaminade Fathers' and Mothers' Clubs)

extend to you, our sons, CONGRATULATIONS on this happy occasion of your graduation from Chaminade

The Co-Educators' Association has been the binding agent of your school years. Through it your parents and your teachers have coordinated their mutual efforts in order to make your school years safe, secure and rewarding.

The Scholastic Assurance Plan, which is a unique feature of the Co-Educators' Association, has stood silently but solidly beside you throughout your years in Chaminade. Its purpose has been to see you through to the eventful day of your graduation even if Almighty God, in His wisdom, decided to call the parent who was your principal support and sustenance.

Some of you have felt the hand of friendship provided by Scholastic Assurance. All of you have had your school years enriched by the efforts of the Association.

May God be with you in the years allotted to you. May your education keep you on the high road of self government and may it be a stepping stone from which you will build a thousand stairways to the stars.

OFFICERS OF THE CHAMINADE CO-EDUCATORS' ASSOCIATION

Brother Lawrence McGervey, S.M. . . . . Principal
Paul E. Thien . . . . . President
Paul Rose . . . . . 1st Vice President
Maribeth Sipes . . . . . 2nd Vice President
Catherine A. Fink . . . . . Recording Secretary
Catherine Albers . . . . . Corresponding Secretary
George Loney . . . . . Treasurer

gerard greene
i have studied a few times
the marble-head which was chiseled for me —
a boat with an unfurled sail at rest in the miami river in fantasy it pictures not my life
but my destination.
for love was offered me but i unfastened the ring from my nose sorrow knocked at my door but the knob fell into my hand.
ambition called to me but i still had river water in my ears.
success welcomed me but the mat was slippery with kelp.
yet all the while i only hungered for an endless meal ticket in life.
and now i know that we must furl that unfurled sail.
and catch some kind of air to thrust me forward into the cool beyond.
but life without gas is the torture of restless and vague desire for gaseousness.
it is the boat longing for catch but still afloat on the great miami.
so on i will go, sailing and seasicking through the polluted waters of life.

A hitherto unpublished work

Dear Readers:

The following letters have just been found in our mail department. Because of our policy of publishing our readers' opinions both favorable and otherwise, we are including them here.

May 7, 1963

To the Members of the Eagle Staff:

For thirty years I have been reading your yearbooks. Your artists are amateurs, your jokes reek, and your material is trash. There was one exception, however, the 1929 Eagle was really great. Unfortunately my copy never arrived. Enclosed find a check for $ .99 to cover the cost of the book.

Sincerely yours,
Robert E. Geary, S.M.

Dear Brother Geary: Have the Green-backers print one on the press!

May 7, 1963

Dear Editor:

I have been reading your yearbooks since 1928. I just thought I'd drop you a line to tell you I don't like those phony letters that start out like this: "Hello, my name is Murkamooka Swartzbaugh." I am 5 years old.

Respectfully,
Anthony D'Elia

Dear Anthony: Wise Guy!

May 8, 1963

Dear Editor:

My name is Murkamooka Swartzbaugh. I am 5 years old and I have been reading your yearbook since 1934 . . .

February 10, 1963

Dear Ad Editor:

I didn't realize until recently that you had advertisements in your annual. Please include the following:

Dear T. S.: We employ a staff of over 75 who work diligently during the entire school year.

MAY 14, 1963

DEAR EDITOOR:

I GIT LOTS OF GRINS OUTTA YORE ANNAUEL YARBOOK. MA SAYS IT'S THE BEST BOOK NEXT TO REVENOO REVUE. ATTACHED TO THESE HAR SCRIBBLINS IS A GIFT OF PA'S CORN SQUEEZINS. YU SHURE GOT A HEAP A GOOD PAGES THAR.

YOUR EVER LOVIN,
SHAG RAG

Dear Shag Rag: Thanhssh!

May 29, 1963

Dear Editor-in-Chief:

We have written every year for the past three years hoping that you would fulfill our request. Please don't refuse us again. We are dreaming about that full page, color shot of Jim Ivory that we have promised to pay for. We think Jim's the greatest. Can't you give Jim the space he needs and deserves in your silly old yearbook? Get our Jimmy when he smiles that cute smile that wrinkles his little nose. Money is no object. We want our Jimmy big!

after the war brought prosperity to the United States. In the latter fifties man began his conquest of space. Also notable during this era was the renaissance of culture which occurred in 1963. Peculiarly, this rebirth began at a secondary school in Dayton, Ohio, in a class known as the 4F Freds. Their numerous contributions are enumerated below.

The noted artist, Brother Joseph Barrish, S.M., is to this day imitated by the avant-guarde artists of Paris. Among his most valuable works are his madonnas, which range in price from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Conducting a studio in the basement of a medieval castle, he inspired many of his students, including Robert Powers, James Nellis, and Thomas Osterday. Powers is noted for his abstractions of the human form; Nellis for his vivid rustics; Osterday for his geometrics.

In the field of athletics, several of this group excelled. Thomas Poeppelmeier, Robert Peitz, Thomas Rave, and Mark Nemecek traveled to the Olympic Games in Tokyo, and carried home gold medals in the basketball, hop skip and jump, wrestling, and 100-yard dash events.

Chuck Ruemping, a good-looking poet, wrote many beautiful sonnets about the glories of nature. In his secondary school days he was known as a gay, offbeat individual. But it wasn't until he began composing poetry that his true character was exposed.

Richard Rinaldo, then a super-intellect, succeeded Caroline Kinudy to the White House. During his four-year term a renewed interest in the art of speaking came about. Rinaldo's secretary of state, Clifford Ruble, (his understudy was John Ruble, who carried a resemblance) managed to establish peaceful relations with the USSR and premier Thov Jamavich Payne. Rinaldo's ambassador to Spain, Walter Rubin de Salis, became a close friend of Franco, thereby establishing closer relations with Spain.

Thomas Reiger, James Payne, and William Neu had a profound influence upon the clothing styles of that age. Their tee shirt and vest creation was internationally popular.

4F produced many noted authors. Among the most prominent of these are J. E. Richards, Donald Reinhard, J. Stephen Redick, and Michael Redden. Richards wrote mainly social criticism; Reinhard composed his theories on scientific endeavor; Redick wrote a television series called "Me and My Pansies." Redden is the most renowned of the group. As a satirist, he wrote such monumental works as, Early Birds Don't Catch Worms, Leading the Pack, Fred Badge of Courage, and Far Above the Madding Crowd.

Eventually taking over the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Richard Portune, David Pflum, Thomas Rosato, John Pickrel, Robert Powell, and Mike Probst proved themselves the finest musicians in the world. All but Rosato played many instruments, Rosato specialized in the zither. Also notable in this field was Robert Quatman, although he never won international acclaim, because of his basic love for rock 'n roll.

Michael Riley, Bill Prinz, and Robert Neumann excelled jointly in the field of science. Through experimentation and research they came up with a new electron theory.

The only infamous members of the group, Michael Russel and Oscar Nass, were philosophers. Instigating a movement to set fire to Washington, they were sentenced

Will Shakespeare in Ye Olde Chaminade (Emmanuel Building, newly constructed)

Scene One. (Ye Olde Chaminade. A compartment. Enter tutor. Pupils in chairs.)

Tutor: Good day fine class,
Ah, the morn, in russet mantle clad,
Walks o'er the dew of yon eastern hill.

Pupils: Cheers, you smart wight.
Prithee, what have you for us Today?

Tutor: Pray, do you not remember?
Twas but a day ago, I told you
Of a quiz.

Pupils: Horrors no, this evil destiny we Wish upon no man.
Give us but one more chance
Kind gentleman.

(smiling)
Tutor: No, no. I won't stand for your Supposed cogging. So with no delay a sheet of paper you must lay upon your desk this glorious day.

(classmates to each other)
Pupils: One may smile, and smile, and be A Villian.

(class assembles in a huddle in the rear, teacher remains in front)

Tutor: I fear something is rotten in the State of Denmark.
(awaits silence)
Alright, let us begin with problem one,
To be or not to be, that is the question.

(The class files out of the compartment one by one)

Tutor: Though this be madness, yet there is Method in't
Whither goest thou?
Wherefore dost thou leave?

(A spokesman from the class steps forward)

Spokesman: I stand not here to quillet, yet
I must remind you that
The quality of mercy is not strained,
And besides, the sweet wind doth gently kiss
The trees, and I fear tis far too nice
To don your charter, and stay within.
But, timorous wretch, there shall always be a
Tomorrow, and tomorrow, and tomorrow.

Never was a story of more woe
Than this of a tutor and his fellows

THE HEADLESS HORSEMEN OF JUNIOR H

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

THANK YOU . . .

BROTHER JOSEPH BARRISH, S.M., who as head moderator of the annual staff inspired the editors to meet the deadlines and to strive for originality. His novel ideas and professional knowledge were a tremendous asset.

BROTHER JAMES VORNDRAN, S.M., who as assistant moderator of the staff and head moderator of the photo club was an important coordinator between his club and the staff.

MR. THOMAS FRERICKS, who as business manager for the book, handled efficiently the selling of advertising and '63 Eagles. His work made this book financially possible.

MR. JOE FRIEDMAN, who as the school's professional photographer, spent many hours, free of charge, at Chaminade, shooting faculty, events, and activities.

MR. MATT McCORMICK, who as representative of Taylor Publishing Company, made frequent trips to Dayton to offer his guidance on the technical problems involved in producing a yearbook.

MIKE SHANESY, who as spring editor spent many hours finishing his section in the heat of early June.
